Become Work Ready with The Junction Works

School Leaver Employment Support (SLES) is a new support covered under the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) to help Year 12 school leavers become ready for work.

SLES is a tailored, goal-based approach that enables young people to decide the skills they need to become work ready.

At The Junction Works we believe that the best way to really become work ready is to learn on the job!

Our Vocational Team takes a unique, integrated approach to the provision of SLES services, offering a suite of Austral based programs that provide real work experience and 'on-the-job' work and life skills development.

Where additional employment training is required, like specific travel training, support with literacy and job finding skills, these are offered through our Work Ready workshops.

The team can also help you decide on appropriate tertiary training, and will be there to support you along the way to course completion.
